Breach by the Insured of the terms and conditions so far as they relate to anything to be done or complied with may cause cover to be suspended until the breach is remedied and/or entitle the Insurer to refuse to pay a claim.

However, where an Insured is in breach of a term of this Policy that requires something to be done or complied with then the Insurer will not reject the claim under this clause provided that the term that has been breached is not one which defines the risk as a whole and the Insured can demonstrate that their non-compliance could not have increased the risk of the loss which actually occurred in the circumstances in which it occurred.

2) Breach of the duty of fair presentation

Inception

If when applying for this insurance the Insured misrepresents and/or fails to disclose all material circumstances that it knew of or ought reasonably to have known of to the Insurer and but for that the Insurer would either have not have entered into this Policy or would have done so on different terms, then

Mid-Term Variation

If during the Period of Insurance the Insured asks the Insurer to vary the Policy or extend cover and in doing so misrepresents and/or fails to disclose all material circumstances that it knows or ought reasonably to know of to the Insurer and but for that the Insurer would not have agreed to a mid-term variation or would have done so on different terms and/or conditions, then

- a) If the misrepresentation or non-disclosure was deliberate or reckless the Insurer may treat the Policy as having been terminated as at the date of the variation and retain the premium
- b) If the non-disclosure or misrepresentation was not deliberate or reckless and the Insurer would not have agreed to a variation on any terms, then the Insurer may treat the Policy as if the variation was never made and return any extra premium paid upon the variation or

then the Insurer may treat the variation as being subject to those different terms and/or where the Insurer would have charged different premium, then the Insurer may reduce the payment of any indemnity proportionate to any difference in the premium that was or would have been charged but for the misrepresentation.

If the Insured knowingly makes a fraudulent claim on the Policy then the Insurer may:
